

FIRST LADY

1942

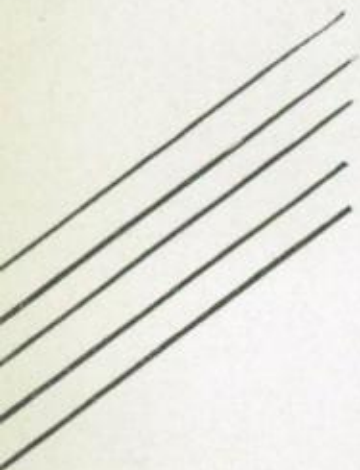

HELEN M. MORGAN

The Senior Class of Whitney High School

presents the 1941-42

First Lady

Foreword

In presenting the 1942 First Lady, the staff is proud to publish its work. Between the covers of this book we have tried to summarize the year's activities. "Vickie" has been used as our ideal student. She represents each of us in all our work and play.

As a sophomore, Vickie is new and somewhat bewildered. During her junior year, however, she feels more competent and at ease. Upon reaching her senior year she becomes a leader. Now at the end of her journey, Vickie prepares to leave her beloved school and take her place in the business world.

It is the sincerest desire of the staff that in the years to come, you may look again at this annual and recall the happy days spent at Harriet Whitney Vocational High School.

Dedication

Vickie, the spirit of Whitney Vocational High School, dedicates the 1942 First Lady to Dr. Anna Lalor Burdick, who has been continuously active in industrial education of girls and women for fifty years.

Born in Iowa, Mrs. Burdick's early education was obtained in the public schools of Burlington and at an early age she began her educational pioneering. Because of her interest in these fields, Mrs. Burdick has been a member of various state and national educational and professional associations.

Having retired from public service last year, Mrs. Burdick now devotes her time to the Lalor Foundation, an organization for the promotion, advancement, and dissemination of scientific research and for the encouragement of the arts. She is president of this institution.

In bestowing the degree of Doctor of Letters upon Mrs. Burdick, President Robert Clothier of Rutgers University read the citation as follows: "Your conception of the task of the educator has been that of a sculptor fashioning a masterpiece from crude material, using the tools of inspiration, discipline, patience, and example. You have realized that education is not only of the intellect but of the whole personality. Especially have you concerned yourself with sociological problems in the field of public education and with the development of occupational opportunity for women."

Because of her untiring efforts our wonderful type of school is possible today. So to the first lady of vocational education for women, Dr. Anna Lalor Burdick, the 1942 First Lady is dedicated.

Versatility must be developed so each student passes a variety of usable skills within her occupational field.

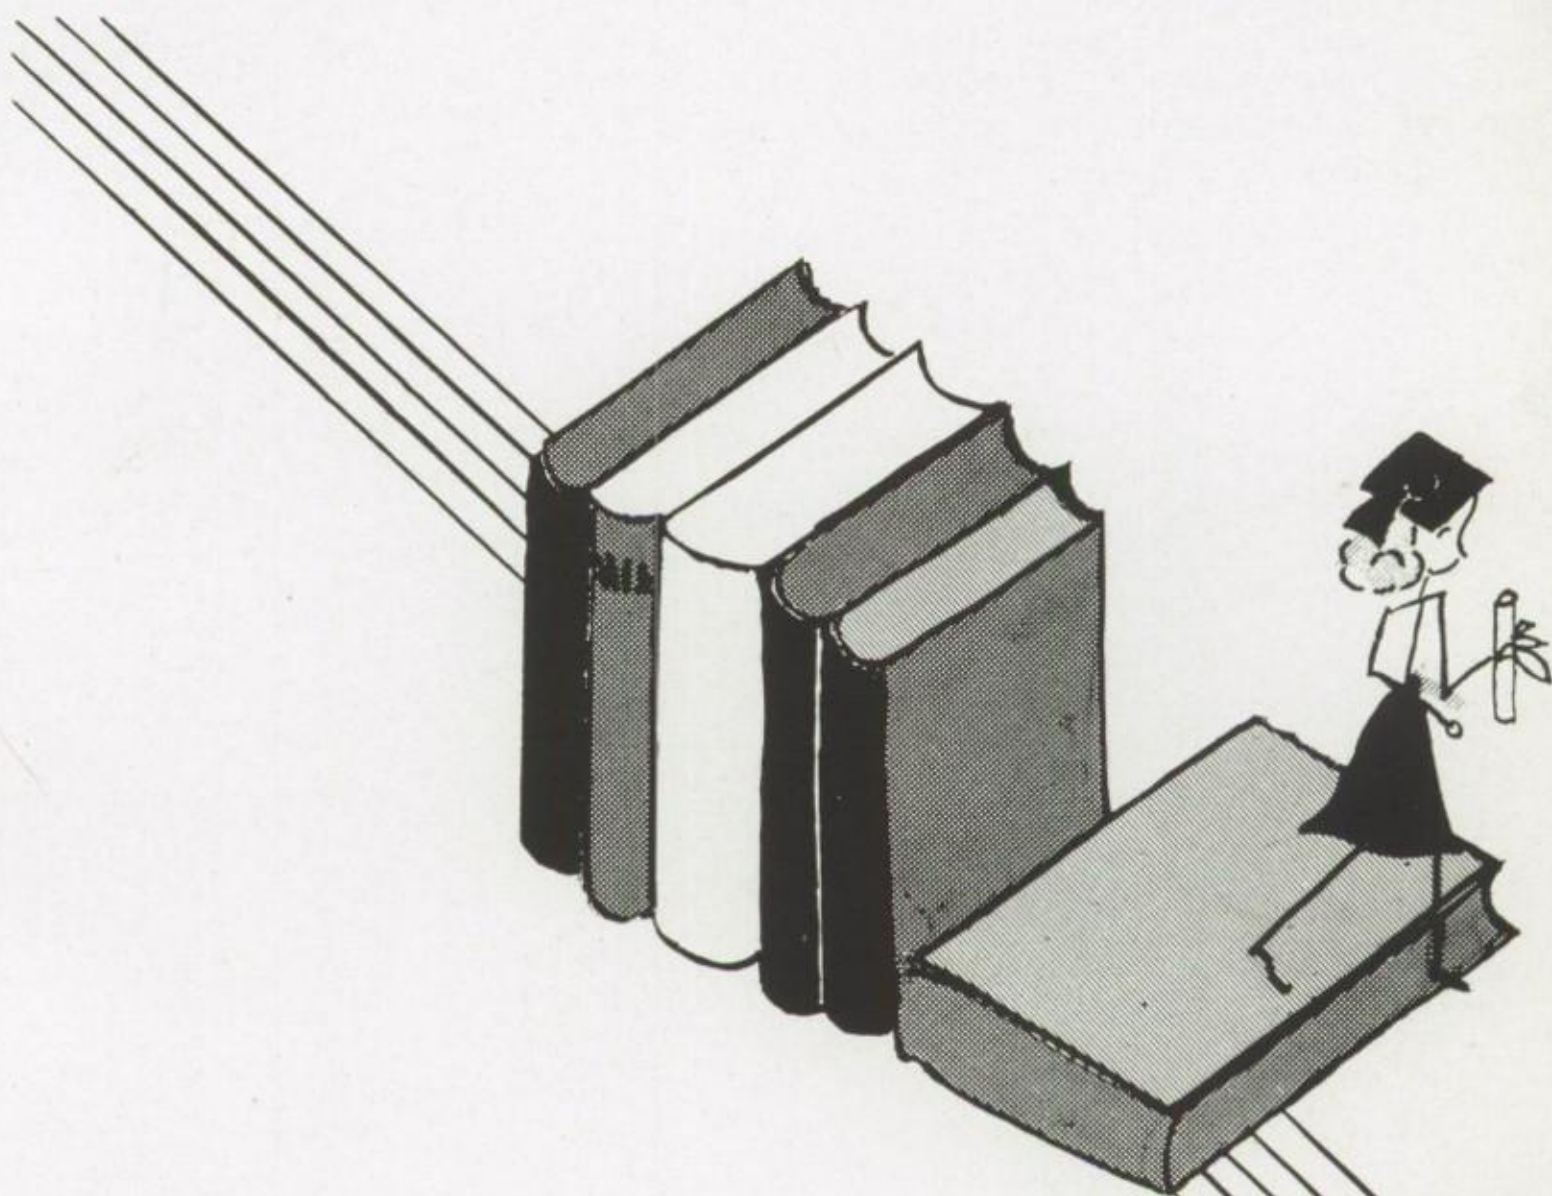

Interest in her trade must accompany ability to do the work well for the greatest degree of success.

Character as a background removes personality from the powder and paint stage.

Knowledge of the related material serves as a foundation for any occupation.

Individual initiative is a strong factor in determining the success of the well-prepared worker.

Every person should develop avocational skills or hobbies in order to enjoy life fully.

Vickie Entered

Remember when we all joined the ranks of the Vocational High School for Girls? We didn't have the dignified name of Harriet Whitney at the time. Oh yes, good old Vickie guided us on our daily trip to the top floor of Webster.

But we weren't the only ones with whom Vickie had to become acquainted. There were many new subjects offered and new instructors to teach us.

At the first W. P. A. dance how flushed and excited we were. Imagine seeing all those boys. Were you a little disappointed? Vickie wasn't. She didn't sit out one dance, the lucky girl!

The grand Thanksgiving assembly put on by the Retailing Sophomores won acclaim from Vickie.

Our six weeks Christmas lay-off came, after which poor Vickie had to move bag and books into the new school. Vickie so believed in the good neighbor policy that she could hardly concentrate on her mid-term exams.

Whee! Vickie gets a chance to entertain those "supermen from across the street" when they were invited to view our new building and trip the light fantastic in the gym.

That year Vickie and the student body searched for an appropriate name for the annual. Finally we christened it "First Lady." Neat, don't you think?

The most dramatic event, Vickie remembers, was the attempted robbery when the poor janitor was slugged on the head.

Vickie back again

Vickie, back again, has progressed somewhat and is now a full-fledged junior.

Vickie's number of schoolmates has increased and so have her subjects. Because like every other girl Vickie wants to have glamour, and because there is always a place for such workers, a Cosmetology course was instigated. Vickie acquired the knowledge of caring for children properly in the new Home Management class. Our Tea Room was made available to the public, and for the first time, the retail store opened for patronage.

An oil painting of Harriet Whitney by John Swalley was presented to Vickie and the student body.

The Student Council sponsored a "Big Sister Party" during which Vickie got acquainted with all the new students. Remember when she attended the journalistic conference at Waite High, at which one of our own Whitney girls was chosen "Queen of the Arts". (Vickie still feels she should have been chosen - - she should! ! especially when the king was so handsome.

The Clothing Classes originated the annual style show with Vickie as the loveliest model.

Remember when the Student Council gave their third annual supper with all the students attending? (Vickie recalls all too well how she ate too-o much and laughed too-o hard.)

At last our school was formally dedicated and named after one of Toledo's first teachers. Now Vickie is a member of a growing institution.

The first May Queen ever presented at Whitney was a wow. (Of course, Vickie again thought the selection all wrong. Did you ever see so much conceit?)

Annual tribute was paid to the seniors when they were entertained at the Junior-Senior Tea. Dear old Vickie surely swings a mean tea pot!

Then there was election week, when officers for the Student Council and senior class were chosen with Vickie doing her bits of campaigning.

The talent show sponsored by the Valeda Club gave her a swell chance to try out some of her gifts.

Vickie stepped up to the honorific position of a high school senior. She had all due respects paid to her by the underclassmen. Oh yes, what a glorious feeling.

With all the boys in defense training, Vickie and the girls planned many all-girl parties.

That last year, surely kept Vickie jumping--keeping up with her social activities and her co-op on the job.

The senior banquet gave her a swell chance to have a good time with her pals. (No boys. I guess they ate too much.)

But at the senior prom, Vickie got a chance to bring her handsome friend and also to blossom out in a dashing formal. She certainly looked stunning.

When commencement exercises are over, the seniors move on, making room for a new group of students. Oh yes, it seems like graduation time never comes. But it does. (Sob!) You old softies, (sob) don't tell us those are tears in your eyes! Well, goodbye to all! We should like to stay for another four years, snuffle, snuffle, snuffle. For shame, and here we're supposed to be such grown-up seniors.

Vickie Reminises:

Time may change our appearances. Time may alter our personalities. But in these couplets classmates have tried to catch and preserve a glimpse of the fundamental you-

MARY ADEN —

Mary could from January to December
Give you a hair-set you would always remember.

CLARA MAY BLAINE —

A peppy girl! That's true!
Always trying to bring happiness to you.

BEATRICE BOYER —

Little though mighty,
Off' a bit flighty.

MARJORIE BRISTOW —

She surely was a talker
When she got with Walker.

JUNE BROWN —

At work this girl is always at the top;
At this rate she will never be a flop.

BLANCHE BRONA —

She likes to work; she likes to play.
Her motto is where there's a will, there's a way!

IRENE BURTON —

The personality of Irene Burton,
Is something that is certain.

MARIAN CASEMAN —

Marian of Clothing is always there;
Without her life would be quite bare.

CORA CROOKHAM —

Cora's keen at finding news.
On a job she'll never lose.

AGNES DANIELS —

Brown-haired Agnes tells Whitney's the school for pals.

ALICE DAVIDSON —

As editor in art,
She did her part.

JANE DONLEY —

With her smile like a queen's,
She has future pleasant dreams.

DORIS DRAEGER —

Doris is such a popular lass;
With all she ranks first class.

JEAN EMERY —

She is pretty, a sure-fire bet;
And if a friend, you're all set.

JUANITA FLEMING —

Fleming is her rightful name,
And it is sure to bring her fame.

VERNA GALLEGHER —

A tiny maiden very sweet.
Timid, gentle, ever so neat.

FLODORA GISEL —

Smart, pretty, small, and slim.
Her knowledge and personality were quite trim.

ROSALIND GATES —

Such a jolly, helpful worker
Never should be called a shirker.

EVELYN GLOBIG —

Brown-eyed, clever girl
Sets heads all a-whirl.

BETTY GORDON —

She liked to fix her hair in many styles;
In appreciation she received all smiles.

EVELYN GORSKI —

Now here is a girl with personality galore.
With all her vitality who would ask for more?

MARJORIE GREGOR —

She is pretty to walk with
And witty to talk with.

EVELYN HANSEN —

Evelyn's personality was a mystery;
But her dancing was an artistry.

HENRIETTA HARDT —

Her crowning glory is hair;
Because of it, she takes on no air.

MARGARET HATTAS —

She's very quiet when with people she doesn't know.
But at a football game she's even friendly to her foe.

MARGARET HAWKINS —

At smiling
She's beguiling.

PEGGY HAWLEY —

She liked to laugh and have lots of fun.
Friendship she always won.

ARLENE HOFFMAN —
 She's always willing to take a part
 In giving our activities a start.

VIRGINIA HOLEWINSKI —
 Music is her greatest passion.
 Many clothes her fingers fashion.

JUNE HOLZAPFEL —
 The good worker is named June,
 Who goes about her chores singing a tune.

IRENE JAGODZINSKI —
 Here is a girl whom you all know;
 For when she smiles, her face is all aglow.

ANGELA KOMOROWSKI —
 She did a good job of living up to her name.
 As an angel, she was one and the same.

MARY ELLEN KOPFMANN —
 Though much admired for her brilliant mind,
 A sweeter maid you never could find.

MARY JANE KOVACS —
 She hardly ever said a word.
 But when she did, it was usually heard.

HENRIETTA KROLAK —
 She is a friend indeed.
 Call her if you're in need.

IRENE KROLCZYK —
 A capable maid in many ways,
 Winning friends as well as praise.

ELEANOR KUBACKE —
 This girl, named Eleanor,
 Is friendly to the core.

DOROTHY KUBACKI —
 In appearance she is neat,
 In introduction, pleasant to meet.

ALICE KUBICKI —
 She is always in style
 With a cute little smile.

DOROTHY LA VRAR —
 As a square dancer she is keen.
 Here's a girl who can't be mean.

FRANCES LAZETTE —
 She is pretty in a quiet way;
 By which she will profit some day.

PEGGY LEASURE —
 Here's a lass with sparkle in her eye.
 With it she catches any passerby.

GLORIA LIBERKOWSKI —
 Fair and golden-tressed is she.
 Some-one's dream girl bound to be.

MARGARET LOCKETT —
 Margaret has artistic taste.
 Seldom any time she'll waste.

BERNICE MAIENFISCH —
 Quite a singer is this lass.
 Through the gates of fame she'll pass.

MARIAN MANROW — Mariam
 A classmate who is very kind,
 No better friend could you find.

NORMA MAROK —
 She liked to sew, liked to sit.
 She also liked to make them fit.

PRISCILLA MATINOSKY —
 Without talking she couldn't bear.
 She keeps her good humor in the air.

ROSINA MAZZIOTTI —
 In activities she was always on her feet,
 And as for brains, she had some beat.

DOROTHY MCKENNA —
 Very witty, very small,
 Likes to skate, makes friends with all.

RITA MARIE MICHALSKI —
 A girl as nice as Marie
 Cannot always be found free.

HELEN MORGAN —
 Some will remember her as one of four.
 Yes, girls, there is one more.

LOTTIE MYERS —
 Her friends are many;
 Her enemies are not any.

HELEN OLSZEWSKI —
 She is short and sweet,
 From her head to her feet.

RUTH PEASE —
 A girl who is willing to do a favor,
 A real friend, not afraid of labor.

DOLORES PIKER —
 This peppy lass in the Retail class.
 Can give all that a store would ask.

EVELYN PILARSKI —
 Work that is well done
 Can, indeed, be considered fun.

RUTH PURVIS —
 As pleasing as the heart of a rose,
 She was never one to assume a pose.

VIRGINIA RAKOWSKI —
 Quite a friend among any sort,
 You'll find she's a very good sport.

ELAINE RAYESS —
 Sweetness expressed by her smile
 Will keep Elaine in style.

ROSEMARY REED —
 Quite popular as a friend,
 Her knowledge, she would lend.

EILEEN RITZ —
 Now here's the one who surely likes to talk,
 But since it's interesting, we'll never squawk.

ELAINE RITZ —
 She's sweet and she's small.
 But she liked 'em tall.

- CAROLYN ROLFES —
She enjoyed dancing so much, as I remember.
She danced from January to December.
- LUCY ROSS —
She's a champion in whatever
She will endeavor.
- EVELYN RYBKA —
A worker indeed,
Sure to succeed.
- EVELYN SCHMIDT —
Her personality is a honey;
Whatever she said was sure to be punny.
- VANIS SCHYLLANDER —
Small, quiet, and very serene
Was she at sweet sixteen.
- MARILYN SCHNEIDER —
A dependable girl,
Friend to all the world.
- VERA SCHRAG —
The dark-haired girl with the lovely voice
Is one selected as first choice.
- HELEN SEIFERT —
Her only folly
Was to be friendly and jolly.
- SUSAN SMITH —
Susan is serious and sweet.
Just to go with her is a treat.
- BETTY JEAN SPENCER —
That sweet, shy girl called Betty Jean
Was everything opposite to mean.
- VIVIAN STAGER —
She used to think it fun to skate;
But only if you had the right date.
- ESTHER STEINKE —
She accepts responsibility;
And her success you all will see.
- JEAN STOHON —
Is one you are able to go on.
The personality of this girl named Stohon
- COLLEEN SULLIVAN —
Did you ever hear more Irish a name?
It's true, her grandparents from Ireland came.
- BETTY LOU THOMAS —
If you want a friend who will always be true,
Betty Lou Thomas is the girl for you.
- LORETTA TRAVIS —
Her book reports I'd like to mention;
She surely got all the attention.
- VIRGINIA TRAVIS —
Work to Virginia is service,
Sweet and with a purpose.
- RHETA WALKER —
Wherever you found Rheta at large,
Look around and there was Marge.
- LENORA WARNER —
Toothpaste is her "ad".
Smiling is her fad.
- VIRGINIA WIEGERS —
There always has to be just one;
She fills the bill and then some.
- PHYLLIS WIELAND —
None of us knew if this would be her fate;
But she surely did love to skate.
- LORETTA WIELGA —
To excel in music is her ambition.
You should hear her fine rendition.
- MARY WILDE —
A friendly smile she wears about,
Planting herself in hearts without doubt.
- LOIS WILSON —
Likes to eat and sleep all day,
Always friendly and always gay.
- GERTRUDE YINGLING —
Skating to Yingling,
Starts her blood tingling.
- RITA YOUNG —
Every day and every day,
She would dress in a different way.
- BETTY ZATTAU —
Betty is the type in demand,
Willing to offer a helping hand.
- VERONICA ZIENTEK —
A shy young girl,
With a heart of pearl.
- GRACE ZIMMERMAN —
A silent person with beaming face
Is this girl whom we call Grace.

Vickie cooks a good meal in the Foods Shop. Here the girls develop a skill and technique for handling eatables. Vickie spends much time in preparing and judging foods before she is ready to plan and serve meals. While an under-classman, she helps manage the school cafeteria. Having become a senior, Vickie gains experience by working in the tearoom. From ordinary little misses in the culinary art, these girls become efficient chefs, who will someday make a place for themselves in their respective fields.

Vickie retails.

This course is offered to girls, who, like Vickie, desire a career in the field of Retail Selling. Here, they acquire a knowledge of the principles of their trade and experience in the operation of a department store. These girls manage the Whitney Gift Shop where merchandise produced by the various classes is sold to the public. High pressure salesmanship? No! Not after a course at Whitney!

Vickie takes a letter.

After receiving her training in Office Practice offered at Whitney, she remembers the hours spent on that "awful" bookkeeping, and the speed tests in both typing and "pesky" shorthand. She also learned to operate many intricate business machines. A wide range of activities are offered in this shop in order to give training that will increase opportunities for employment and advancement on the job. The course requires a great deal of time and study, but the rewards that are reaped in later years over-shadow all else.

Vickie creates many lovely fashion models in the Clothing shop. Because she shows ability and great interest in the designing and construction of garments, she has the opportunity to display her talent by making uniforms for the various shops in the school. Vickie assures us that the girls look mighty "cute" in their finery, too! The Clothing classes are equipped with all the most modern machinery. An undying effort, combined with a knowledge of sewing, prepares each girl for a position in some phase of the needle trades. While showing us some of her latest achievements, Vickie says, "I did it with my t. n. t. (thread, needle, and thimble!)"

Vickie's efficiency in the line of household duties makes her an excellent home manager. Household Management is one of the new courses offered at Whitney. Students are taught how to manage their own homes and those of others. They study foods, clothing, maintenance work, child care, laundry, and hygiene. Vickie thinks this is a "must" in the life of every girl. She hopes that when the reputation of this shop becomes better known, a high placement record will be acquired. You can hardly afford to overlook the marvelous opportunity to learn the duties of the household manager.

Vickie styles

a new coiffure for you in the Cosmetology Shop. After her training she might become a beauty consultant, operator, hair stylist, manicurist, or manager. This course was formerly available to only high school seniors and graduates. Now it is offered to juniors. The curriculum fulfills the 750 - 1,000 hour training requirements of the State Board of Cosmetology and prepares the students for the State examination, a prerequisite to a license. The girls are given instructions in the fundamentals and the techniques on the care of the face, hands, scalp, and hair. After a sufficient amount of instruction they are ready to offer service to students in the school and outside patrons. (Do you still wonder where Vickie gets that glamour?)

The Student Council is an organization whereby Vickie and the girls participate in school government. This body consists of a representative from each shop group. Its purposes are:

- (1) To help students plan and conduct their own activities.
- (2) To promote better citizenship through actual participation in the management of school affairs.
- (3) To develop initiative and a sense of responsibility.
- (4) To promote cooperation with faculty in solving the problems confronting the school.
- (5) To provide practice in:
 - (a) Organizing a group to accomplish a set purpose,
 - (b) Working together for a common cause,
 - (c) Conducting meetings according to parliamentary procedure, and
 - (d) Guiding other special activities as they arise.

The Student Council sponsored various social events, such as a skating party, Get-acquainted all lassies dance, Get-acquainted dance for the boys and girls, and the Student Council Supper.

The officers of the organization are:

President—Eileen Ritz
Vice-president—Rita Bielawski Secretary—Marilyn Schneider
Treasurer—Elaine Ritz Sergeant-at-arms—Louise Nelson
Miss Thelma Howey and Mrs. Ruby Buck are the council's advisers.

Vickie sings....

Do-re-mi--Yes, Vickie does sing! She is a staunch member of the Glee Club, which was organized in 1936. She sings with the girls at commencement, school assemblies, and carols at Christmas time. They not only sing but also participate in many social activities, such as roasts, dances, skates, hikes, and other events.

The group meets every Thursday. Vickie says if you are interested in singing and would like to spend an enjoyable afternoon, there is no better place for you than the Glee Club. We agree with you, Vickie.

Miss Thelma Howey is the adviser. Officers for the year were:

President—Betty Draper	Vice-President—Florence Mieczkowski
Secretary—Patricia Glowczewski	Treasurer—Jean Connelly
Publicity Manager—Violet Daniels	Librarian—Stephanie Sliwinski

Vickie racks....

her brain to the bone to produce originality on the First Lady. Oh! What a busy girl was she working (and having fun) publishing the 1942 edition. Composing, write-ups, checking names, proofreading were only a few of the tasks she performed in the hope of issuing a better annual. All her effort was not in vain. For when Vickie saw the "gals" beaming faces as they were presented with this printed and leather-bound "First Lady," she was as proud as could be. However, she can't take all the credit, for a large part of it is due to the untiring efforts of Blanche Brona, editor, Eleanor Kubacke, Evelyn Hansen, Dolores Piker, Grace Konczal, Jeanne Holliger, and others. The skillful artistry was accomplished by Alice Davidson, art editor, and her assistant, Adeline Lewis.

The finances of the yearbook were efficiently handled by Colleen Sullivan. Class pictures were under the supervision of Marilyn Schneider.

Vickie finds reporting is a lot of fun on the Gi-Vo-Hi Gazette. She feels very important handing in articles to the editor-in-chief. She loves to see her work in print. The following, she tells us, is the why and wherefore of the school paper.

The Gi-Vo-Hi Gazette is published by the students semi-weekly. True, the staff is aided by advisers, but they have nothing to say about the content or production of the Gi-Vo-Hi.

The Gi-Vo-Hi Gazette was originally established to sponsor organized student opinion. The paper is still published for this purpose and to record important events for Vickie.

The Gi-Vo-Hi staff believes that the paper should contain mostly student news. Following this policy the news is really "of Vickie." Thus, the Gazette is of, by, and for the student body.

Vickie surveys....

the Friendship Clubs which were organized in 1939. Vickie was a charter member and therefore she claims it to be one of the most popular organizations at Whitney. She tells us that the girls not only participate in a social program but in educational work as well. The clubs' object is to promote friendliness and cooperation among the student body.

Vickie attends the Inter-Club council for representatives of both Friendship and Hi-Y groups throughout the city. The Hi-Y boys cooperate with the Friendship girls in many activities, and then, oh, joy!, conferences are held at Camp Walbridge and Camp Storer for the leaders to discuss the many problems of the past and the activities to be undertaken during the coming year

The girls plan dances, skates, parties, and roasts which Vickie attends with delight.

In years to come the clubs plan to expand and promote their activities.

Vickie met with the other members of the Valeda Club early in October. This is the oldest organization in the school as it was started in 1932 by Miss Anne Schwertzler, a former instructor. Valeda means "wise woman." They help with the social functions of the school. The activities are varied so that members may secure added wisdom and experience concerning the world in which we live.

This year the group planned a New Year dance, the annual Talent show, a skate, parties, suppers, and roasts were other events.

The officers are:

President—Leona Campey
 Vice-President—Elaine Rayess
 Treasurer—Colleen Sullivan
 Sergeant-at-arms—Rosina Mazziotti

Vickie pretends to become a nurse's assistant in the Junior Red Cross Club. This popular organization is now two years old. Weekly business meetings are held in the room of Miss Adrienne Curtis, group adviser. Vickie goes for the monthly potlucks in a big way!

The club sponsors such drives as March of Dimes, Community Chest, United Service Organization, Zoo, Red Cross Roll Call, and many others. Vickie and the girls get a great deal of enjoyment in this service.

Ten gift boxes were sent to England, favors were made for hospitals and soldiers' homes. And, listen to this, you sea-minded maidens, menu covers for sailors on board ships were sent to the Navy for Christmas!

The chapters sponsors many activities for its hard-working members. Roasts, Halloween dances, apple sales, Christmas parties, tea dances, and banquets are listed on their social calendar. Quite a club, don't you think?

Vickie joins...

the Library Club. One day in May, 1941, Vickie became one of a group calling itself the Library Committee. Other charter members were: Rosina Mazziotti, Ann Palser, Bernice Maienfisch, Adeline Biernacki, and Martha Turkowski. As the organization expanded it was known as the Library Club.

This group helps the library in many ways. A paper sale was conducted for its benefit, and the proceeds from the selling of school colors were used to join the Book-of-the-Month Club. Books are purchased throughout the year by this organization. Vickie says they are trying to promote a greater interest in the school library, and to provide social activities for Whitney students. She sees bright years ahead for the members.

Vickie visits....

the Paleteers. A very young group at Whitney creates the lovely posters which advertise school affairs. Its members include all the artistic-minded students.

Representatives from all clubs are organized into a Social Council to plan activities for the entire school year.

A Publicity Committee with Rosemary Reed as chairman writes the articles about Whitney which appear in the public press. Other members are Blanche Brona, Rosina Mazziotti, Rheta Walker, and Gloria-Rose Cary.

The book review societies are conducted once a week and some very interesting and enjoyable meetings are held. These clubs give their members a sugar-coated pill of education.

Looking in upon the sophomores she sees the newly organized Solitso. The name was derived from Sophomore Literary Society. These sophomores certainly are clever! The members are the Office Practice 10-A class.

Still another sophomore club is Estoria, meaning literature. The members of the Office Practice 10-B group are in this club.

And now for the junior clubs. The names of these seem quite familiar to Vickie for she heard so much about them last year.

The first one she finds is Lambda Beta (Lovers of Books). The girls are members of the Office Practice 11-B class.

Retail Selling 11B has formed a literary club called "Suzy's Readers." Next she visits Whit-Gir-Lit (Whitney Girls' Literary Society). This is the Office Practice 11-A class.

Now come the upperclassmen, the oldest group in Whitney. There is only one senior Office Practice club, The Cyclops, which signifies that its members will keep an ever watchful eye for good literature.

Vickie grows slim in the school gym. Posture and relaxation exercises, hit-pin baseball, badminton, ping-pong, volleyball, paddle tennis, shuffleboard, and dancing are the feature attractions in physical education. Vickie was among those who were the first in the city to participate in uni-goal which is played somewhat like basketball. Did you ever see such grace as that of the girls in the tumbling class? As for sideline sports, the students bowl or swim, whichever appeals to them.

During the year, Vickie has a chance to show her athletic abilities by competing in several events during inter-shop tournaments. Of these badminton and table tennis lead in popularity. The classes play each other during their gym periods. After school the leading players in each shop vie for the school championships. Vickie thinks these competitions are some workout!

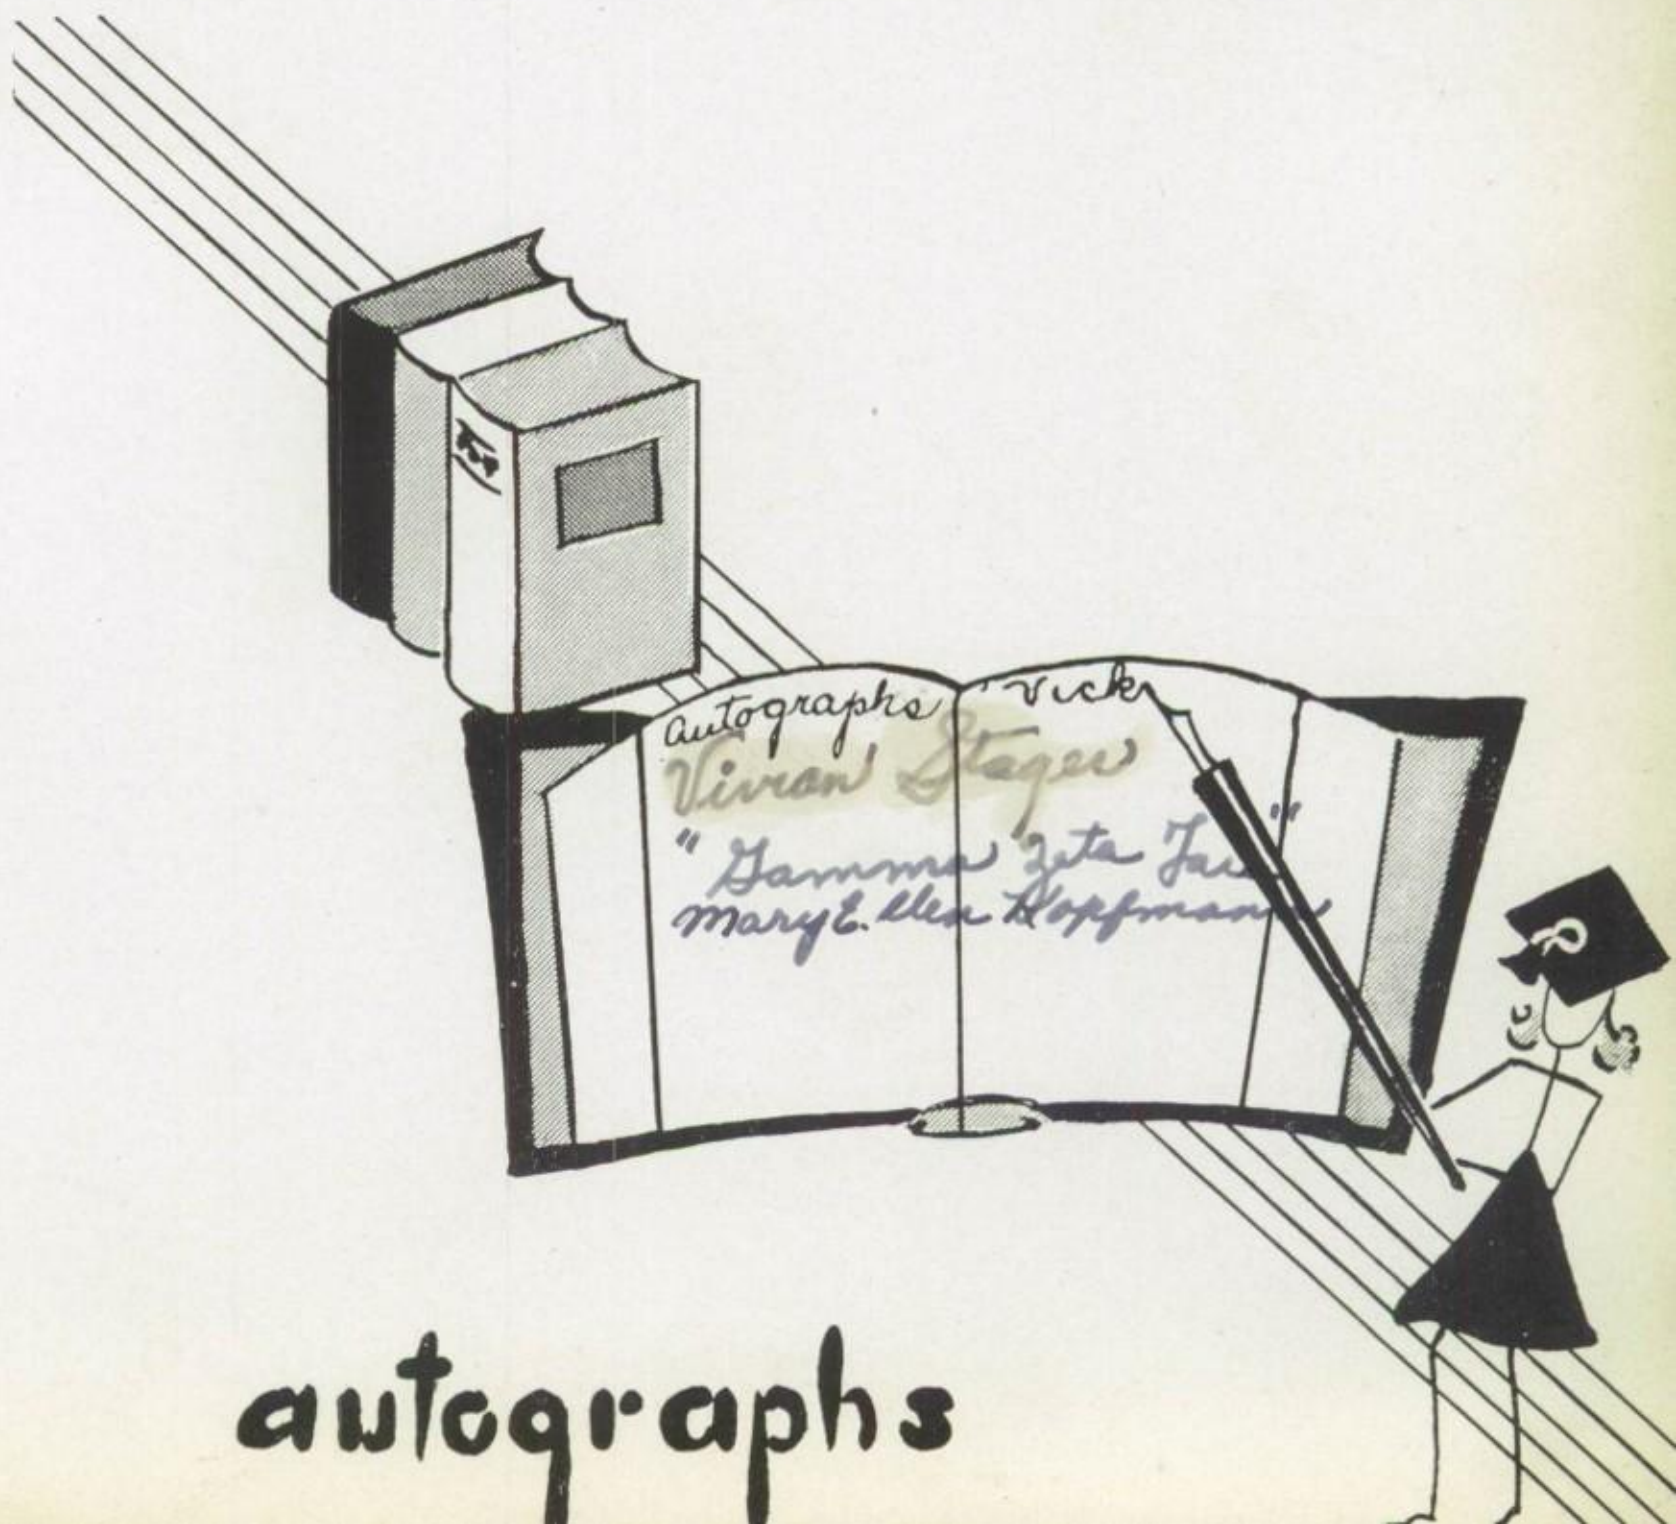

And now, for the major event---DANCING. For six weeks Vickie has the thrill of learning new dance steps. Oh, how she glides 'cross the floor to the tune of a rhumba, conga, fox trot, or waltz! Square dancing is also one of her favorites.

Another activity of great importance is Play Day when Vickie packs her sports wardrobe and goes to the University of Toledo for a day of fun.
